

RESOLUTES OBTAIN BIG DUCKPIN TOTAL

Surprise Bowlers With 1,734
Set Against Good Fellows in District League.

LANE LEADING PERFORMER

Columbia Lodge Hands Stansbury a Jolt in Masonic Circuit.

Resolutes came through with a surprise in the District League last night. They trounced the Good Fellows in three straight games, which was not unusual, for every team in the league has been known to wallow in defeat. The Resolutes totaled 1,734 pins, the surprise and stamps the Resolutes as a combination of underestimates.

They counted 535 to 497 in the first game, 583 to 487 in the second, and 518 to 527 in the final. Lane, lead-off man for the Resolutes, was the star of the match. He rolled a set of 362 with a high game of 164, which was chiefly responsible for his team beating the 600 mark in the third game. Captain Rider, of the Good Fellows, won high game honors, however, with a string of 155.

Columbia Trains Stansbury. Columbia Lodge took a fall out of the leading Stansbury team in the Masonic League by winning two games. Stansbury, Lafayette, and Columbia are the leading quintets of the circuit, standing in the order named, a 241 victory was a valuable one for Columbia.

The latter achieved a total of 1,648 with a high game of 180. Kreiger led the Columbia with a set of 342, but the entire team rolled consistently well. Borden and Haller were Stansbury's best performers, the former having the high set of the match, 251. Other excellent rollers were Woerdendyke, of Labor, in the Departmental League, who had a total of 374, with a high game of 147, and Redeker, of the Morris, in the Sargentbund circuit, who totaled 355.

GERARD AND PARTY START FOR HAVANA

Leave Corunna, Spain, and Are Due to Arrive in Cuba on March 8.

PARIS, March 1.—Charles H. Grasty, who sailed today from Corunna, Spain, with ex-Ambassador Gerard's party for Havana, Cuba, sent the following dispatch to friends here before leaving Madrid to embark on the Spanish liner:

"Ex-Ambassador Gerard chartered a train of three sleepers, a dining car, and two baggage cars and steamed away from Madrid to Corunna. He and Mrs. Gerard had a round of entertainments here, their hosts including King Alfonso and the British and American ambassadors. At the station Ambassador and Mrs. Willard saw the Gerard party off. The party included about fifty, with fifty others waiting at Corunna.

"In honor of Mr. Gerard, the Duke of Saragossa, a Spanish grandee and amateur engineer, appeared at the station dressed in blue overalls and drove a locomotive which hauled the train. Later, Mr. and Mrs. Gerard entertained the duke at dinner. He came in overalls, his eyes shining with the zest of his adventure, and his Spanish animation was a delight to his hosts after the strenuousness of the last week.

"Mr. Gerard's party will reach Corunna on Monday, and the Infanta Isabelle will sail Tuesday. The party is made up largely of old Berlin residents and newspaper correspondents who are experts in German psychology. None would be surprised if a German visit, not necessarily hostile, should be paid to the Gerard boat on the voyage. The general wish is expressed that if there is such a visit, it may be from the captain of the raiders operating near Cuba, who is a personal friend of Mr. Gerard and the other members of the party.

SUBURBAN BODY TO MEET.
Final consideration of proposed changes in the schedule of meetings of the Citizens' Northwest Suburban Association will be given at their meeting in the Tenley School building tomorrow evening at 8 o'clock.

"HATPIN HEROINE" DRIVES THUG TO COP

Thief Runs Into Policeman's
Arms When Pursued by Girl
With Bonnet Anchor.

NEW YORK, March 1.—"The Hatpin Heroine" might have been the title of a movie scenario straight from life, written yesterday in the Fifth avenue court in Brooklyn, with twenty-one-year-old Mabel Flatten as the leading lady.

The events had taken place the day before, and had to do with a frail girl who, trusty hatpin in hand, pursued a thief twice her size down several blocks of Brooklyn asphalt, matched her weapon against his loaded billy, and with it brought him afright to justice.

The first picture would show the lower hall of a Brooklyn apartment house, with dim corners, behind the usual assortment of baby carriages and trunks. From these shadows looked out the youthful but desperate face of Martin D. Temple, alias Wilbur J. Alwyn.

Reel 2 would reveal Mrs. Margaret Jacobus, sixty years old, coming into the hallway, with her arms full of parcels and her handbag containing $22.50, on her arm.

Reel 3 would show Temple hurrying her to the floor, seizing her handbag and rushing from the house with it.

Reel 4 would display Miss Mabel Flatten, twenty-one and pretty, as she sees Mrs. Jacobus on the floor, and starts in pursuit of the thief, drawing her pin from her hat as she runs.

Reel 5 would show her re-enforced by a crowd of women with rolling pins and brooms, and casual curiosity seekers, but still in the lead. The thief tries to frighten her by going through the motion of drawing his "billy" from his hip pocket.

In reply Miss Flatten waves her hatpin before his face. With a howl, the luckless evildoer dashes into a hallway in Twelfth street, rushes over several roofs in the vain attempt to escape the hatpin. Miss Flatten meanwhile has raced to Eleventh street and is in waiting for him, in trying to elude her the thief ons straight into the arms of Patrolman Elmer J. Kelly and John J. Sullivan, of the Fifth avenue station. Temple was held for the grand jury.

SUES HOTEL FOR INJURY.

Claiming that she slipped on a highly polished floor of the Cochran Hotel, and suffered a fracture and dislocation of her shoulder, Margaret A. Cleaves has instituted suit in the District Supreme Court to recover $50,000 damages from Eugene S. Cochran and Rosa C. Fairbanks, trading as the Cochran Hotel Company. Attorneys Daniel W. Baker and Harry A. Grant appeared for the plaintiff.

RECEPTION TO PLAYERS' CLUB.

Old-fashioned games and dancing will feature a reception to be given this evening by Mr. and Mrs. George De Franceaux to the members of the Mt. Pleasant Players' Club, at their home at 1447 Monroe street.

PROTEST PARADE POSITION.

A protest against the position given the Young Men's Democratic Club in the parade is voiced in resolutions adopted at a meeting of the organization in Old Masonic Temple last night. It was contended that the club should have been given preference to the Wilson and Marshall Association, assigned to head the civic section, as the latter is a junior organization. The claim is made that the young men's club has participated in parades since 1884, and should have been honored with the preferred position.

SUES FOR INJURIES.

Suit to recover $20,000 damages for injuries received while working on an apartment house at Vermont avenue and L street northwest, was instituted by Plummer Harner, a hodcarrier, in the District Supreme Court yesterday against Joseph W. Collins, a builder. Harner was struck by a bar of iron which fell ninety feet during the construction of the building. John Ridout and T. C. Taylor appear as attorneys for the plaintiff.

SPARROWS SNOWBOUND

Weather Drives Birds to Shelter Under Reviewing Stands.

When the snow began to fall this morning the sparrows in the tree opposite the District Building flew under the inaugural reviewing stand to escape the white pellets that inspire poets and overtake deniers.

It began to snow this morning at half-past six and the elements continued on the job all morning. The temperature remained around 33 degrees above zero and promised to rest at that figure for the day. The Weather Bureau said it might turn colder tonight.

Rain last night warmed the ground and very little of the snow was served to stick after falling. Roof of buildings were the first to collect the fleecy white, and indications were that if the temperature falls sleigh riding may again be the favorite outdoor sport this winter.
